

Holly
Williams

Holly Michelle Williams was born in May of 1996. Unknown to her family and doctors, she was born with a birth defect which was not discovered until she was 4 years old.

"The name of the problem is bilateral vesicoureteral reflux," explains Mara-Lee, Holly's mother. "More commonly it is called bladder reflux. It's a condition where the valve between the kidney and the bladder does not open properly, which then causes urine to back up into the kidney. If undetected, this condition over time causes toxins to be released back into the body, resulting in great pain in the kidney area."

Holly's little body was plagued with acute kidney infections and other symptoms, including headaches, fever, fainting spells, and even occasional seizures. She was often placed on antibiotics for chronic infections. The doctors agreed not to proceed with surgery unless it was the last resort.

"The doctor's decision to wait and not have surgery gave God an opportunity to work a miracle for Holly," shares her mother. "In May 2003, when Holly was seven years old, her uncle and I took her to the Benny Hinn Miracle Crusade in Milwaukee. A member of the ministry team came to pray for her during prayer time. An hour later, the ministry team member came and prayed again. Holly reported that she felt a strong wind go through her stomach area. Those were her exact words!"

A few moments later Holly said, "Mommy, my right side doesn't hurt anymore!" She and her mother knew that something extraordinary had happened. Mara-Lee decided not to go to the platform, but instead she went back to the doctor to verify what had occurred. She then contacted Benny Hinn Ministries to share the medical documentation of healing.

Medical follow-ups continue to spotlight what God did. A report dated November 26, 2003, states: "No vesicoureteral reflux was seen at any time during the examination. Impression: Specifically, the Grade IV vesicoureteral reflux present on the previous [exam] was not visualized on the current exam." In nonmedical terms, that is called a miracle!

"The doctor has since told us that Holly has graduated from the 'School of Medicine' and no longer needs her medication," adds Mara-Lee. "Holly has not taken any medication for kidney problems since that time because she has had no further pain or problems and is a completely healthy child. She now testifies to her classmates what Jesus has done for her. Holly and I both say thank you over and over for what He has done!"
